PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I recently read an article by Debora J. Halbert regarding copyrights in quilting. Many issues were brought up regarding what copyrights entail and how patterns can be used (or not used). I found it interesting that she found one of the most problematic aspects in defining copyright parameters is that quilting is a culture of transforming the ideas of others into one's own creations and building new quilts upon the traditional models of past quilts. As quilters we share and exchange our ideas and; we use fabrics from old items and make them into something new; we take a traditional design and add our own special touch. Quilting is a culture premised upon seeing something interesting or beautiful and then working with the design to make something new. Old and new patterns are combined, colors and materials brought together, pieces of older garments sewn into new quilts, and the modern blended with the traditional. In these ways, quilting shows the creativity that comes forth from transformations connecting the past to the present and individuals with each other. That is why copyright boundaries are so hard to define.

THIS MONTH

This month Susan Turpin will be teaching us about Bed Runners and giving a demo of an interesting block she's used in them before.

If you are interested in reading the full article, written by Debora J. Halbert, that Michele read inspiring her message this month, here is a link to the article. <http://journal.transformativeworks.org/index.php/twc/article/view/41/118>

NEWS FROM THE STATE GUILD

QUILT FEST

Quilt Fest is fast approaching. It will be held September 18-22 in St. George, Utah at the Dixie Convention Center. We hope that you have already registered for classes and reserved a hotel room. The rooms at the Hilton and the Fairfield are sold out, but there are many other great motels/hotels in St. George.

There will be lots of prizes awarded at the luncheons, including a sewing machine each day. So we hope that you have signed up for all of the lunches/lectures. (table favors for everyone!)

If you have a quilt for the quilt show, a mini quilt or a cancer block that needs to go to Quilt Fest, I will be leaving on Sunday, September 16 and I will be happy to take them down for you.

QUILT SHOW IN THE BARN

This quilt show is a fun one to attend, it is in a beautiful barn bigger than many homes. The date is Saturday, September 29 from 10 am to 5 pm. Cost is $5.00 with proceeds going to the Road Home Shelter. Shuttle parking is available on Walker Lane. You cannot park at the barn, or even near it. You can walk or be shuttled. Address is 2520 East Walker Lane (5450 South) in Salt Lake City

CIVIL WAR QUILT SHOW:

And, don't forget the Heber Valley Civil War Quilt Show at Soldier Hollow also on Saturday, September 29. A separate flyer was sent out on this a couple of weeks ago. Sandra Dallas will be speaking at 3 pm. Don't forget to enter your reproduction quilt in this unique quilt show. Contact Rachel Crane for any questions: craneshalfacre@gmail.com quilt artists. The trunk shows are Wednesday, August 8 from 6 pm to 8:30 pm and on Friday, August 10, from 11 to 1:30, again, two days you will not want to miss.

INTERNATIONAL ART COMPETITION EXHIBIT

Four members of the UQG have their beautiful works of art on display at the International Art Competition Exhibit at the Church History Museum in Sat Lake City, just west of Temple Square. The 198 piece exhibit of paintings, sculptures, textiles, etc., will continue until October 13, 2012. The UQG members include Carol B. Johnson, Donna Moyer, Ann Seely and Jodi Warner. Jodi's quilt was purchased by the museum to become part of their permanent collection.
