

Heber Valley Quilters Newsletter

March 2021

Hi Ladies,

In February, we had the great opportunity to have Andy Knowlton share her story with us. I had two big takeaways from the night.

The first one was to not let one bad opinion of a quilt you made be the deciding factor. Keep putting your designs and quilts out there, and eventually, good things can come from it.

The second takeaway came from her husband. They shared how when Andy was going through breast cancer treatments, she was given a heart quilt made by quilting friends. They shared that this quilt, out of all the quilts Andy has in her home, was the one that was most special to her. You'll never know the impact a quilt you gift will have on someone.

For March, there is a conflict on our regular meeting night with the Bank and the room. We will be meeting the night before instead. Wednesday, March 3rd will be our guild meeting from 6-8 PM at the Bank of Utah. If you want to join us via Zoom, here's the information:

Meeting ID: 869 6407 0108

Passcode: 575915

Don't forget to be working on your WIPs! The WIP IT! form is attached, if you want to participate in our challenge.

The Sew & Tell Challenge for our March meeting is the project that took you the longest to get finished.

See you next week!

We are hoping that most of you have joined or renewed your membership with the Utah Quilt Guild. The cost is only $20 for a year. You will receive 11 issues of the newsletter each year in addition to discounts at Quilt Fest and other events. Membership runs from March to March of each year. Quilt Fest is still in the planning stages and will take place in September at the Davis Convention Center in Layton. If you have never attended in the past, this might be the year to give it a try. Lots of activities and a great quilt show.

The Utah Quilt Guild is the one that gives our guild prize money for our challenge quilts each year. It is always good to support each other.

Quilting retreats are starting to take place again and many of these will be advertised in the Beeline. We are hoping that the majority of quilters will have had their second Covid shot by early summer so that we can get back together again.
