NEWSLETTER APRIL 2024

A H-U-G-E thank you to Jane Leaphart and Tamara Ellis for hosting the retreat this year! When you see them, please give them your thanks as they spent hours and hours planning and preparing for this event. And because Midway now charges if you want to set up the night before for an event, Jane and Tamara were up at 4 am (!) to set up Friday morning. And thank you to Leah and Lara for teaching classes on making a darling pouch and a really cute bag!. It even included a 10 minute massage which went over extremely well. That feature will be included in our next retreat for sure! We hope everyone who can come will attend the next one :)

A private party from Altamont is hosting the First Annual Heber Valley Quilt Retreat. It will be May 6-10 in a rented house in the area. It is 5 days and 4 nights for $450. As I have more information, I will share it.

I visited a Joann store in Salt Lake City recently and spoke to the staff about the announced bankruptcy. He said that the store is not going to change names or be much different than it is right now. It is being changed from a publicly owned company to a privately owned company. I also noticed that there seemed to be less fabric than normal but maybe that's just because of the bankruptcy and there were oodles of employees all throughout the store. Maybe I just had a lucky day, but I thought that was good news about them not shutting down or going out of business!
