Design Challenge 2006

Everything I Need to Know I Learned in Quilt Guild.

This year's design challenge has begun. We will be compiling a guild book of the things we have each learned as members of the guild, or for those new guild members, things we have learned from quilting itself.

Your challenge, should you choose to accept, is to First make a list of five statements that describe what you have learned. Next, choose one of those statements and elaborate. This paragraph will be used for your quilt label, which I will print for those who participate. Finally, design and complete a quilt that reflects the topic of your paragraph, and have it ready for our Design Challenge Quilt Show on March 21st at guild meeting. The only stipulation: Do not use a published pattern for your quilt. Remember this is a Design challenge - your own design.

You must finish your Design Challenge in order to receive the book we are writing. Don't forget to bring your list of what you have learned and your paragraph for your quilt label to February's guild meeting. If you can't make it that night, please contact me by phone: 657-0581, or email: princessquiltsalot@msn.com to turn in your list. Please, please call me if you have any questions.

Good Luck!!

"To Quilt, or not to Quilt... What a silly question!"

Those who sleep under a quilt, sleep under a blanket of love.

A Preview

Can't wait for Celini Richins' demonstration this month on the Buggy Barn's fun and easy stack, slice and switch method of piecing. This is going to be great! If you ordered one, pick up your pattern for this cute quilt at guild meeting.

Buggy Barn Heart Crazy's

next month...

March's guild meeting will feature a demonstration by Wasatch County's home economist and guild member, Debbie Proctor. She will show us how to make mitered-corner blankets in a snap. We will also have our Design Challenge Quilt Show that evening. Are you up to the challenge?

Fund Raiser

Utah Quilt Guild Water Bottle Fund Raiser to support UQG operations.

February's guild meeting will be your last chance to get one of these great bottles. They hold about 22 oz. and have a fun compartment for storing keys, scissors, thread and anything else you can fit. If you would like to purchase a water bottle, the cost is $6. Get yours from Shantelle and support the State Quilt Guild.

We would like to thank our Newsletter Sponsors for 2006:

Charity Quilt Corner

Just a little note about the Charity Quilts for this year! We have decided to ask everyone to do at least one quilt, on your own, for the Children's Justice Center. A fun way to decide when they get done is to base it on the month of your birth. If your birthday is in January, you have until the February guild meeting to get it done. For every quilt you turn in, you may enter your name (one name per quilt) in a drawing for a stack of really cute fat quarters, donated by Cat Beckstead. We do have batting, yarn for tying, and labels available for these quilts. We also have some kits of fabric and batting if you want to pick one up to do. Donations of fabric are always needed and appreciated. If you'd like help tying your quilt, let us know so that we can make the arrangements and put a notice in the Newsletter.

So heads up all you January birthdays (Wendy, Joan, Rachel, Tricia L) ~ February Guild meeting is coming up soon!

I am a quilter and my house is in pieces.

Guild Retreat

It's time to start thinking about our 4th annual guild retreat, "Quiltin' in the Woods." It will be held at Shantelle Cox's family cabin up Weber Canyon May 4th through the 6th. Be sure to keep your calendar open for three days of quilting fun!

The Calico Road

by Barbara Murdock

One of the most interesting things I did this past month was attend the Nancy Halvorsen lecture in SLC. Nancy is a quilter, an artist and has published many quilting books and patterns. She is also a successful fabric designer. She briefly told us a little about her life and how she got started into designing fabric. It was so interesting hearing all of the many steps involved in the process from start to finish. She stated it takes close to a year from the time she submits her drawings until the fabric is made. She rarely speaks to quilting groups because she is so busy, so it was an honor to be able to attend.

In March, I will be giving a lesson in Midway on the different kinds of threads available for quilters. In my research, I was given a tour of the Superior Threads warehouse in St. George, which I found to be very interesting. The lady spent about an hour with me giving me all kinds of information. I have also visited with the distributor of DMC threads and, again, was given great information. I have learned so much.

I visited a new quilt shop in Spanish Fork this week: the name of the store is Cherry Tree Cottage at 389 South Main Street in Spanish Fork. It reminds me a lot of the Lazy Daisy store in St. George, in an old house. They just opened the middle of January and so are in the process of acquiring more fabric. Apparently, this is the only quilting store in Spanish Fork, other than JoAnn's.

I will be attending the Zion Retreat in Zion Canyon February 17th and 18th, sponsored by the St. George Quilt Guild. I signed up for the dinner/lecture and a class on Saturday.

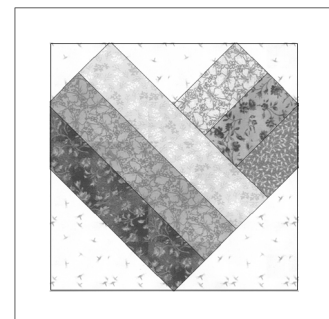

I also attended a lecture up at Daniel's Summit during their Winterfest Retreat. It was on the making of the Joseph Smith memory quilt. I was able to have lunch with the ladies and they said they were having so much fun and highly recommend attending the retreat. They were also giving away great prizes. About 10 vendors were there - some of our favorite Shop Hop stores - and I visited all of them.

I heard that only one person attended the Moda fabric class at Heber Cotton Company that Shantelle taught. But this person was so excited because she had a one on one experience, said it was wonderful. She was so grateful to Shantelle and all of the things that she taught her.

If you have anything to report on--any classes, sales, retreats, new stores, etc., please let Deonn or Barb know so that we can get this information in the newsletter.
